The band Fun. is a new band that I have recently become a fan of. Fun. is a band that may not be extremely popular but support for them is growing.

Fun. would be considered an American indie pop band which includes three members, Nate Ruess, Andrew Dost, and Jack Antonoff.

Ruess is the lead vocalist. Antonoff plays the guitars and trumpet while Dost does vocals and plays piano, guitars, bass guitar, keyboard, synthesizers, trumpet, flugelhorn, drums and percussion.

Their current album "Some Nights" was released on Feb. 21 by Fueled by Ramen, an American record label that operates as a secondary of Warner Music Group.

The most popular song on the album is "Some Nights." Fun. does a remarkable job questioning the feeling one can have in a single night. The lyrics, "Well, some nights I wish that this all would end; 'Cause I could use some friends for a change; And some nights I'm scared you'll forget me again; Some nights I always win." These conflicting emotions make this song very powerful.

Another song that is gaining popularity is "We Are Young," featuring Janelle Monáe. The way Fun. and Monáe combine their voices is beautiful. The lyrics, "Tonight, we are young; So let's set the world on fire; We can burn brighter than the sun," are powerful. My generation can especially relate to taking advantage of being young and making the most out of every night.

With "Some Nights" being Fun.'s second album I can know it will not be their last. When I listen to their music I feel calm. I enjoy the lyrics and the fact that the music does not overpower them.

I hope to hear more of them in the future and would recommend giving this album a shot. It's not for everyone but I would consider myself a fan from now on.
